

LONDON - UNITED KINGDOM

Aviation

Our aviation team offers a range of aviation hull and/or liability products designed for a global client base, including airlines, product manufacturers, airport operators, and their ancillary services. We also provide coverage for non-US general aviation clients, while our dedicated US-based team can support with all US general aviation.

With decades of experience, our dedicated team is an approachable and trusted partner, collaborating with intermediaries and clients to develop programmes that match their individual needs.

Supported by the robust financial strength of Sompo, we provide substantial capacity and undertake underwriting activities through our company platforms in the UK.
